Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 05/03/2007.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 5, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gilson et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,336,934). Gilson et al. disclose the invention as claimed including a principal wire (ref. 33, Fig. 11), a capture filter with a filter body (ref. 30 and 31, Fig. 11), support wires (ref. 30, Fig. 11, and Fig. 39), meshed material (ref. 31, Fig. 11), the filter body divided into sets that are twined together to form the support wires (Fig. 39), the mesh size of the material decreasing toward the central part of the concave (Fig. 39), the filaments consisting of a shape-memory alloy (col. 11, line 39), a guide wire joined to the convex side of the filter body , and the nearer ends of the support wires being fixed to a second tubular piece (ref. 32, Fig. 11). Gilson et al. use one wire that goes through the filter. It is attached to both ends of the filter. The proximal end can be considered the principal wire while the distal end can be considered the guide wire.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gilson et al. as applied to claim 5 above, and further in view of Greenhalgh (U.S. Patent No. 6,375,670). Gilson et al. disclose the invention substantially as claimed except for the central part of the filter body being joined to the nearer end side of a first tubular piece. Greenhalgh teaches a filter body being joined to the nearer end side of a first tubular piece for the purpose of attachment (ref. 38, Fig. 1). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have modified Gilson et al. with a filter body being joined to the nearer end side of a first tubular piece for the purpose of attaching the guide wire to the mesh filter body.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed May 3, 2007, have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Gilson et al. does not disclose, teach, or suggest the amendments that have been made to claim 1. Applicant also argues that Greenhalgh does not cure the deficiencies of Gilson et al. Examiner respectfully disagrees.

The amendments that the Applicant has made to claim 1 only add in product-by-process limitations (See MPEP Section 2113 Product-By-Process Claim.) "[E]ven though product-by-process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based on the product itself. The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. If the product in the product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process." The product of Gilson et al. is still the same as the product of the application and, therefore, the rejection is final.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
